Rosharon was known locally by trainmen as "Buttermilk Station" because an early resident was known to bring a bucket of buttermilk and a dipper to the railroad station to give the engineer and crew a drink.

I bring this up because a pair of articles I read recently made me wonder if our human-influenced idea of "instantaneous" is leading us to unfortunate decisions.

I have been looking for possible John Quelch on the 1841 Census living in Reading, Berks that would be old enough to be Elizabeths Father. There is only 1 possibility and he has a much ...
