Are hydrogen stocks a good investment?

Written by Georgia Williams for Investing News Network -> Hydrogen stocks are enjoying momentum as the world moves closer to a green energy future. The most abundant element on Earth, hydrogen is a colorless gas. It can be produced in liquid form and burned to generate electricity, or combined with oxygen atoms in fuel cells.

Is green hydrogen the future of energy storage?

Green hydrogen is another path to energy storage, not as a direct competitor to batteries but as a complementary technology for different uses. Lithium-ion batteries are the undisputed kings of short-duration energy storage (SDES), typically about 0-10 hours. Their dominance is not an accident; it's the direct result of the EV revolution.

Is FuelCell a green hydrogen stock?

As a manufacturer of fuel cell energy platforms, FuelCell is right in the middle of the green hydrogen trend. Fuel cells essentially perform the reverse operation of electrolyzers to convert hydrogen into electricity. Among green hydrogen stocks, Bloom is another blue chip.

How much does a hydrogen fund cost?

The fund includes companies involved in hydrogen production, integrating hydrogen into energy systems and making fuel cells, electrolyzers and other technologies related to using hydrogen as an energy source. The fund has an expense ratio of 0.5%, or $50 per year for every $10,000 invested.
