

The expansion of green spaces has improved air quality, reduced temperatures, and enhanced citizen health. Ljubljana's efforts to improve liveability for citizens were recognised when it ...

Policies to protect the environment and high awareness among the population have turned Slovenia in one of the most sustainable countries in Europe.

In the category of environmental sustainability, Slovenia falls into the sample's upper-middle ranks (rank 11). Environmental legislation is largely based on EU directives. The government seeks to reduce ...

The 2024 country-specific recommendations for Slovenia mentioned the need to prioritise nature-based solutions in Slovenia's mitigation measures, to invest in sustainable transport, and to boost ...

Slovenia is a country that tells its green story. Everything is green no matter which direction you turn - towards the Alpine peaks and extensive forests, the Adriatic Sea, the mysterious Karst and nearby ...

Slovenia has been developing its sustainable tourism industry through long-term commitment, ecological awareness and continuous stakeholder management.

Eight Slovenian destinations have been included in the prestigious global list of Green Destinations Top 100 Stories 2025, confirming Slovenia's position as one of the leading countries in sustainable tourism.

It highlights the main developments and challenges in these areas, including measures to support progress towards sustainability in Slovenia.

Slovenia is situated in the southern part of central Europe where four biogeographic regions meet, forming a large variety of eco-regions and habitats. Slovenia is one of the most forested countries in ...

Gain insights into public awareness campaigns, international partnerships, and the obstacles Slovenia faces as it strives for sustainability. Understanding these dynamics represents a ...

Slovenia environmental sustainability

Web: <https://falconengineering.co.za>

